

Dulles and Ike Study Solution to China Crisis

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower today solemnly warned Red China he will not hesitate to commit American armed forces to defense of the Nationalist offshore islands if he finds that necessary to the security of Formosa.

The President's position was set forth by Secretary of State Dulles in a statement authorized by Eisenhower after they had conferred at the summer White House for 1 hour and 45 minutes.

Dulles said Eisenhower will not hesitate to conclude that Formosa, the main Chinese Nationalist bastion, is threatened under an attack on Quemoy, Matsu and other offshore islands.

Dulles stressed that Eisenhower has not yet made any such finding under authority conferred on him by Congress.

"Presidential determination, if made, would be followed by action both timely and effective," Dulles said.

Despite the persistent bombardment of the Nationalist islands by the Reds, and Communist China's announced intention to invade, Dulles said the United States has not abandoned hope that the Communist government "will stop short of defying the will of mankind for peace."

Dulles added:

"The President and I earnestly hope that the Chinese Communist regime will not again, as in the case of Korea, defy the basic principle upon which world order depends, namely that armed force should not be used to achieve territorial ambitions."

"Any such naked use of force would pose an issue far transcending the offshore islands and even the security of Taiwan (Formosa)."

"Dulles went on to say any such development 'would forecast a widespread use of force in the Far East which would endanger vital free world positions and the security of the United States.'"

Bonding Company Pays County

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A state auditor said yesterday that all of the $20,109.40 missing from the Carroll County treasurer's office has been paid by two bonding companies.

Aubrey McCasland, superintendent of the County Audit Division of the state comptroller's office, said Western Surety Company of Sioux Falls, S.D., notified him Tuesday it had sent a check for $7,012.27 to cover its share of the missing money. Previously, United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company sent the treasurer's office a check for $12,197.13, the amount it was responsible for under a bond.

Edwin L. Champlin, Carroll County treasurer, has been indicted by a Grand Jury on charges of embezzling the money over a 3-year period. He is scheduled to be tried Sept. 17, McCasland said.

Money-making Convict Gets His Freedom

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A convict sentenced to prison for running a "money-making machine" confidence game was one of 40 prisoners granted paroles yesterday.

The State Parole Board recommended executive clemency for 14 others.

Barney Payne, 43, of Pine Bluff, was sentenced to nine years in prison for his "money-making" operation that lured a Green County merchant out of $3,000. He was convicted of grand larceny in connection with the confidence game, known as the "green score."

Payne and an accomplice convinced a merchant the "money-maker" really worked. The merchant withdrew $3,000 from a bank and gave the money to Payne in exchange for a sack which supposedly contained $4,000. It didn't.

Payne then started up the machine and left it with the merchant at a tourist court. When the machine failed to live up to its billing, the merchant called police and Payne was arrested.

He will be released on parole Saturday.

The list of persons given paroles also includes one convicted murderer. He is O. Taylor, a Negro, who was convicted Sept. 17, 1931, in Jefferson County for killing another Negro in a fight. He was sentenced to a life term.

Taylor was paroled in 1950 after former Gov. Sid McMath had reduced his sentence to 45 years. After his release, Taylor was arrested again in Texas and recommitted to prison in Arkansas.

Forces May Cover Vegas Dancing Girls

By JAMES BACON

AP Motion Picture Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The forces of decency, helped by the hard economics of the gambling industry, could eventually cover up Las Vegas' controversial nude showgirls.

As one big gambling operator put it tersely: "Gambling and undressed broads just don't mix. We've got a good thing here in legal gambling and we don't want to see it taken away."

Vegas' Las Vegas hotel men, such as Ben Goetzstein of the Riviera and Jack Entratter of the Sands, fought the bare-breasted invasion from its inception more than a year ago. Both reasoned that nudity could well turn the plush oasis into a honky-tonk town.

And more important, that it could drive away the lucrative family vacation trade.

"We spent millions of dollars publicizing Las Vegas as a place where the whole family can have a happy vacation, see the finest entertainers in the world and gamble legally, only if they want to," said Goetzstein.

Entratter says the married businessman who brings his family with him is still Las Vegas' best customer.

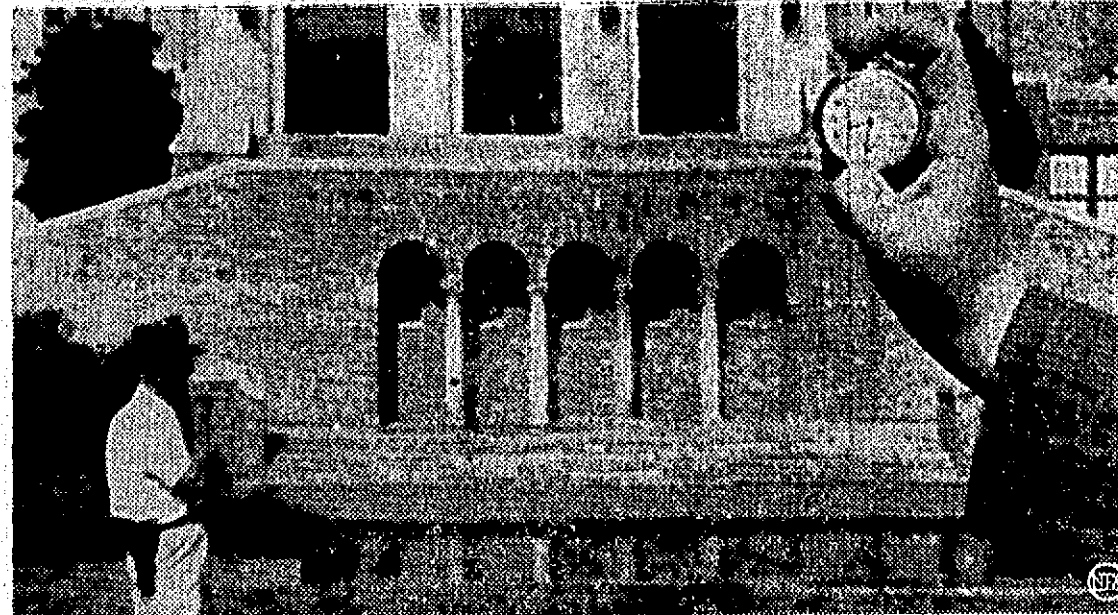

During the Labor Day weekend the Sands had 99 of its 300 rooms allotted to children.

"If the town goes for the strip, these boys and girls are going to have a hard time making their home and their husbands to."

Las Vegas is a unique night club city, especially during summer. Children often make up as much as a fourth of the dinner show audiences.

They are barred however from the nude girls' shows.

The major hotels have good economic reason to believe that family-type entertainment pays off better than strip-teasers.

EMPTY CLASS ROOMS — Class rooms at Central High School in Little Rock, Ark., remain empty as the 8:30 A. M. bell calling students to classes failed to ring on the scheduled opening date, Sept. 2. A lone civilian guard, patrolling the campus, was the only activity found near the controversial school. The Little Rock school board has postponed opening of the school until Sept. 15, four days after the U. S. Supreme Court hands down its integration decision. — NEA Telephone

Court Protest of Union Cleanup Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters monitors headed into federal court today to protest a plan by union boss James R. Hoffa which would wipe out their existence as Teamsters' corruption cleanup squad.

Hoffa, expressing impatience with reform orders from the monitor watchdog group, disclosed Wednesday night he plans a new union convention as a step to end the monitor setup and get his critics out of his hair.

It was learned that Monitor Chairman Martin P. O'Donoghue advised Hoffa not to issue any convention call.

O'Donoghue was reported intent on finding out from U.S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Latta whether the monitors can forbid such a convention and get court backing for cleanup directives to Hoffa which the Teamsters' boss has ignored in some cases.

Hoffa himself questioned whether the monitors can properly require that the union name an outside prosecutor to bring outside charges against one of Hoffa's closest union cronies, Owen Brennan, a union vice president from Detroit.

Brennan is one of half a dozen Hoffa aides who have figured in Senate Rackets Committee disclosures and whom the monitors have recommended for suspension from union office and power.

Searches for Plane With 17 Aboard

ADANA, Turkey (AP) — The U.S. Air Force carried on an intensive search today for an American transport plane with 17 persons aboard that disappeared two days ago near the southern Soviet Union.

The C130 Hercules turboprop plane was last heard from on a routine radio report over Adana, Turkey, 110 miles southwest of Soviet Armenia. An unarmed U.S. cargo plane got lost in bad weather in that area last June and Soviet jet fighters shot it down. The nine crewmen were released 10 days later.

Says Any Man Can Outcook His Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Any man who takes over in the kitchen can out-cook his wife."

So says Eugene Erlie, a chef, a widower and a student of the soulful side of cooking.

"It's an urge from the heart," said Erlie, president of the American Culinary Federation, as the group opened its convention Wednesday with 150 top U.S. chefs in attendance.

"Men have more of the creative urge," he said. "They have a great natural talent, and they take the creative arts into cooking."

What's more, they've been at it longer.

"When the caveman hunted and made his kill, he cooked it over an open fire and brought it home to his woman that way," Erlie said.

"Then it was discovered food could be made by grinding meal. That was a tedious job, so the man turned it over to his woman."

"Gradually she took over the whole job of food preparation."

And, said Erlie, sadly, too many women still regard cooking as just another piece of household drudgery.

The average American family is better nourished than those in Europe," said Erlie, who is from Alsace-Lorraine, the French-German borderland. "But sometimes American women are a little careless in the preparation of the food."

Erlie is chief of the United Airlines flight kitchen in Chicago.

Milling Band Partially Blocks Integration at Van Buren High Today

Heads of Both Parties Line Up Against Faubus

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The heads of both major political parties have promised to avoid smear tactics in the congressional campaign.

But in signing clean campaign pledges Wednesday, the chairman of the Democratic and Republican national committees, who made it abundantly clear they are not barring their candidates from discussing such topics as racial integration and the way President Eisenhower does his job.

McClure, Republican chairman, and Paul M. Butler, Democratic chairman, reached one of their rare agreements at a news conference after formally endorsing a code of fair campaign practices worked out by a national committee headed by Charles P. Tait.

They agreed they don't like the statements and the attitude of Democratic Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas on school integration. Faubus has threatened to close any Arkansas schools that federal courts order integrated.

Alcorn said the kind of statements made by Faubus about the Supreme Court's anti-segregation opinion and other phases of the controversy "do not contribute to the solution of this problem, either from a Republican or a Democratic standpoint."

Butler said Faubus' statements "do not constitute the attitude of the Democratic party, do not reflect its views and the Democratic party repudiates such statements by Faubus."

Alcorn was asked if he would classify his dirty politics-the Democrats' charges that Eisenhower is a part-time President. The GOP chairman replied he felt this transcended the pledge's ban against the "use of campaign material of any sort which misrepresents, distorts or otherwise falsifies the facts."

But Butler said he doesn't interpret the code as restricting the Democrats from making the part-time President charge "with some degree of public acceptance of it as a fact."

In signing the pledge, the two chairmen went on record as condemning "any appeal to prejudice based on race, creed or national origin."

What's more, they've been at it longer.

"When the caveman hunted and made his kill, he cooked it over an open fire and brought it home to his woman that way," Erlie said.

Typhoon Grace Hits Across China Sea

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Typhoon Grace roared across the China Sea today toward Red China's largest city, Shanghai, after battering northern Formosa.

Nationalist Chinese authorities had no reports of casualties from the 115-mile-an-hour winds and torrential rains that lashed Formosa in the early morning hours.

The worst Pacific typhoon of the year, Grace missed Okinawa and Japan as it headed north-northwest.

A 17-year-old white senior, who refused to give his name, told a newsman that 41 boys — sophomores, juniors and seniors — had organized a strike to get rid of the Negroes.

There were indications that none of the Negro students would attempt to enter the school today. "I'm not going back," said Freddy Bell, a 10-year-old Negro junior. I don't know, but I don't think any of the others are going back either."

Bell said Wednesday night that he and seven others of his race could not take any more threats and insults from their white classmates.

The spokesman for the white youths said today his group would block the entrances of the school to keep the Negroes out.

A station wagon occupied by two Negroes passed the campus. The white boys started after it. When it sped off, they said they probably had scared it away.

A newsman reported that School Supt. Everett Kelley was seen on the campus and that a sheriff's patrol car and a city police car were parked nearby. The superintendent had declined to admit or discuss racial tensions at the high school.

Bell said he and two other Negro youths walked out of classes yesterday after white boys threatened to get them after school.

Van Buren's integration program started last September under a federal court order. It was considered successful since there were no reports of disturbances during the 1957-58 school year.

But when the fall term began Tuesday, the Negroes were greeted by a score of jarring white youths in front of the school. Signs painted on the building said: "Nigger, Go Home."

Bell said someone hit him in the leg with a rock as he entered school yesterday. He also said several white youths exhibited swastika-like hand signs.

Efforts to obtain statements from school officials have been unsuccessful.

In contrast to the situation at the high school, Van Buren's junior high school peacefully integrated five Negroes Tuesday and apparently there was no trouble yesterday.

Bell seemed worried about his decision not to return to the integrated school because Van Buren is west Arkansas town of 6,000, has no Negro high school.

He said he hoped officials could "work something out."

50 Boys Appeal

other Negroes left the building during the morning because white boys in their classes threatened to beat them after school.

Ball said neither he nor seven other Negroes enrolled planned to return to school today. School officials have refused to comment.

At Greensboro, N.C., a small group displaying a Ku Klux Klan banner and a Confederate flag met at a school. Even so, five Negro children, three of whom entered the school last year, attended the opening session without trouble.

Application blanks for deputy U.S. marshal did not mention the racial situation at Little Rock's Central High School, but one applicant said there was no doubt he was signing for duty at Central if it reopens as an integrated school.

The U.S. Supreme Court meets Sept. 11, four days before the school opens, to hear the Little Rock school board's plea for a 30-month breathing spell. The NAACP will ask that integration be resumed at once.

At Fort Smith, just across the Arkansas River from Van Buren, two elementary schools admitted Negroes. One of the youngsters attended school with white children last semester in Fort Smith, where integration is voluntary. The Arkansas cities of Hope, Fayetteville and Charleston also went ahead peacefully with integration.

Four Kentucky high schools desegregated for the first time. There were no incidents as two Negroes attended white schools in Charlotte, one of the cities in which North Carolina's first school integration took place last year.

Four Negroes plan to enter white schools opening today at Winston-Salem, N.C. Integration moved forward a step in one Virginia case but failed to advance in another.

U.S. Dist. Judge Walter Hoffmann rejected the Norfolk school board's plea for a delay until next year in desegregation. The jurist said he may reconsider his decision if the U.S. Supreme Court grants a delay at Little Rock or a review of that case.

A member of the Arlington County school board told another federal judge that six Negroes' applications to attend a white school were rejected because of low achievement.

The testimony came at a hearing to determine if 30 Negroes must be admitted to the Virginia county's white schools. The county board advised teachers that school openings, postponed from today to Monday, may be further delayed.

Fishina Report Around Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Here is a fishing report and forecast from the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission:

Lake Ouachita: Water clear. Black bass fair on artificial and live bait; bream good on crickets and worms.

Bull Shoals Lake: Water clear. Bass fair on artificial bait; white bass fairly good on deep running bait; catfish good on throw lines.

Lake Norfork: Water clear. Black bass fair to good at night on artificial worms; catfish fair on trotlines with live bait.

Lake Conway: Water clear. Bream good on crickets, worms and popping bugs; bass and crappie fair on artificial bait and minnows.

Lake Croston: Water clear and low. Largemouth bass good on towwater lures when schooling; fair trolling with deep running bait.

Lake Hamilton: Water clear. Black bass medium to good on artificial bait early and late in the day; bream good on worms and crickets.

Lake Gatharine: No report.

Legionnaires Go Into Last Day of Meet

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Legion national convention moves into its concluding session today with another full round of speeches and resolutions. But the high point of the day will be election of a national commander.

While the votes are yet to be cast, Preston Grover, 38, Stillwater, Okla., was considered a shoe-in for the post.

Speakers today include Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the Chinese Nationalist president, and Luis Munoz Marin, governor of Puerto Rico.

The Legions 3,000 delegates polished off one of the thornier issues of their 40th annual convention when they rejected by a 6-1 majority a proposal that the Legion back a 100 monthly pension for all World War I veterans at the age of 60 regardless of health or need.

After long debate, the Legion approved its traditional stand for pensions based on need.

However, the successful resolution added these liberalizing amendments to the present pension stand: an increase in monthly disability pension rates, a provision veterans receive permanent and totally disabled pension payments at 65 regardless of health, and lifting of restrictive outside income limitations.

Meanwhile a high U. S. official at the summer White House said the United States would intervene swiftly if it thought the Formosa Strait situation was out of hand—that is, if the Nationalist Gen. Chiang Kai-shek's forces could not handle it by themselves.

Dulles stated the U. S. position at a jammed news conference attended by some 70 reporters and TV-radio people in a room only a few feet from the President's office.

By MAVIN L. ARROWSMITH

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles today discussed strategy aimed at preventing any full-scale war in the Communist threatened Formosa Strait.

Dulles arrived at the summer White House by plane from Washington at 10:27 a.m.

He and the President got quickly to the business of studying how to forestall an invasion by Red China of the offshore islands held by the Chinese Nationalists.

In advance of the meeting there was speculation it might produce a public statement by Eisenhower or Dulles.

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Communist China posted a new keep-out warning today to any American ships and planes that might be sent to help Nationalist Chinese in Formosa and garrisons on Quemoy and other offshore islands.

The Peiping regime extended its territorial waters to 12 miles offshore, taking in Quemoy and Matsu, which nestle against the Chinese mainland. The official New China News Agency said in a broadcast that all foreign ships and aircraft must have permission to travel in the new zone.

The new area also included Formosa, about 100 miles from the mainland, and the Nationalists' Pescadore Islands, supply point about 30 miles from Formosa. Both have always been claimed by the Reds as part of China.

The announcement charged that "U.S. military occupation of Formosa is an illegal act violating Chinese territory and sovereignty."

"China has the right to recover Formosa at an appropriate time using all appropriate means," the announcement said. "This is China's internal affair, in which no foreign interference is tolerated." The news agency defined the starting-point of the new 12-mile line as the line connecting the mainland coast with its offshore islands. That would take in Quemoy, Matsu, which is about 18 miles from the nearest point on the coast, was within what the Peiping announcement called the Chinese inland sea.

The new sea limits give Peiping the pretext to regard any blockade-busting mission to relieve Quemoy as an act of invasion.

The United States continued to beef up its forces on Formosa. U.S. authorities announced the arrival of more American Sabre jets but did not say how many.

Gen. Curtis LeMay, U.S. Air Force deputy chief of staff and the top American exponent of long-range bombing, is due in Formosa Sunday for a look at the situation.

LeMay is expected to remain here several days at the invitation of the Nationalists and then take off for a tour of U.S. Air Force bases in the Pacific.

In old English usage, the term "worm" often was used for the mythical dragon, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

DOROTHY DIX

Slap-Happy Hubby in No Position to Make Demands

Dear Dorothy Dix:

When Job and I were married a year ago I thought he was a wonderful boy, nice looking, and well-mannered. He changed completely after the wedding. In three weeks he had turned into an abusive, inconsiderate savage. He would slap me for anything and everything. We lived with my mother at the time, and finally he got so bad that she put him out. We tried again, this time on our own, and he was worse. I got slapped for looking at TV, my mother gave us the set, for not packing the right sandwiches in his lunch, even for objecting when he wouldn't pay the rent. I left him again and now he's begging me to come back. He has one condition, though — I am to visit my mother only once a month, and not call at all. He is a steady worker. I'll say that for him but I never saw any of his money — Pansy.

Dear Pansy: Job is also smart. He is perfectly aware that the only interference he has in the free use of his punching bag is your family. If he can keep you away from them he can slap away. He's in no position to make conditions, but you are. If he's serious about making a home for you, take your property to a family counselor. If he refuses to go, he proves he's not serious. If Job can be cured of his urge to use physical violence, he may become a good husband.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I'm a girl of 17 and, though my mother is wonderful in most respects, she has never told me anything about life and love. My girl friends are amazed at my ignorance and advise me to see a psychiatrist — Junie.

Dear Janie: I have a list of books, and very inexpensive pamphlets, that will save you the trip to the psychiatrist. If all you need is information, send a four-cent stamped self-addressed envelope for "Sex Education for Teen-Agers."

Dear Dorothy Dix:
You have helped my mother and sister with their problems, now I'd like you to consider mine. For the past year a young girl has been writing me very nice letters, sending me greeting cards and calling up once or twice a week. She speaks to my mother or sister, as she never seems to call when I'm home. Since work and night school keep me pretty busy, that's understandable. She has been asked for her last name and telephone number but refuses to leave them. My folks have had very pleasant conversations with her, and they think she's very sweet. How can I get more information about her? — R. S. V. P.

Dear Boy: Since the girl seems determined to shroud herself in mystery, all you can do is wait for her to break down with a solution. One guess would be that she is lonesome, much older than you, and this is her way of getting company for a short spell each week. Guesswork, of course could yield an infinite number of possible answers — some good, some not so good. Have mom and sis cultivate her on their own and keep asking questions. When you get the right answer, I'd like to know about it.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
After ten years of a hard-luck marriage, I obtained a divorce, put my furniture in storage, and went home to my mother. I have a six-year-old child. I have been working, pay my own way, and everything has been quite pleasant. I have two married sisters, who lately have been telling me that I should move. In their opinions, I'm not being fair to my mother. Should I take their advice? — Penny C.

No Privileges, Warn the Slavs

BELGRADE (AP)—"You have no special privileges in our country," the Yugoslav Communists told the Russians Tuesday night. The statement came in reply to the charge by Pravda, the Soviet Communist organ, that Yugoslav authorities had checked passengers and crews of Soviet ships entering Yugoslavia.

Borba, mouthpiece of the Yugoslav Reds, said the Russians and all others entering Yugoslavia are subject to customs control.

"Maybe it's a custom in the East that Soviet citizens are not controlled when crossing borders," Borba said. "Perhaps that's why they are surprised that at our frontiers, they're checked just like anybody else."

Final Approval on River Bridge

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A federal agency has given final approval for the Arkansas Highway Commission to advertise for bids on a Mississippi River bridge at Helena.

The Housing and Home Finance Agency stipulated its okay on the move and Highway Director Herbert E. Ridge said yesterday that he expected the Bureau of Public Roads approval later this week.

Eldridge said it would be possible to advertise for bids after Sept. 26.

The Mississippi Highway Commission is working with the Arkansas commission on the project. Eldridge said that under Mississippi law, bids on the bridge cannot be opened before November.

HAIR-TRIGGERED

The bright leaves of the Venus flytrap plant attract its insect prey, but each hinged tent has sensitive hairs which, when touched, trigger it to snap shut and ensnare its victims.

Officers of the U. S. military forces with five-star rank are considered to remain on active duty and in theory do not retire.

He added that he expected no further delay in the financing of the long-delayed bridge which will cost about 14 million dollars.

The Mississippi Highway Commission meets Sept. 9 at Jackson and is expected to pass on bid specifications for the toll bridge.

SENSITIVE INSTRUMENTS
A white tennis ball at a distance of 1,000 miles can be detected by the sensitive instruments used to search for satellites other than the moon.

January 8 is a legal holiday in Louisiana. It honors Andrew Jackson for his defeat of the British at New Orleans in 1815.

Public Wanted Milton Berle Back on TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—For the half hour show which he says has years, various people have been "a far more relaxed" man television on a regular basis. For than the comedian who quit two years, Berle has been saving vision two years ago, vowing that an hour a week is to much, never to return.

"Nothing is going to bother me," he says. "All I'm going to do is shows in a season are too much for me. I can't do it. All I Then, after he convinced a no-try to do the best I can. All I Then, after he convinced a no-try to do the best I can. All I Then, after he convinced a no-try to do the best I can. All I

Away from presentations and appeared in a straight dramatic role on "Kraft Theater" several months ago, something interesting happened. The public began writing him to come back. Thousands of letters poured in, saying in effect, "We want Berle."

So Milton Berle will return to weekly television. But he says he won't be back on a regular basis. For than the comedian who quit two years, Berle has been saving vision two years ago, vowing that an hour a week is to much, never to return.

Chapter XXXIV

Things were going along as planned. Morrison felt it was time to tell the captain of the progress. He collected the papers concerning the case, went to Morrison's door and knocked. Once inside he looked at the older man with envy. Even this late in the day, he looked as though he had just come from a nap and a shower.

He placed the cardboard folder on the desk and said, "I think we've got him. It may not suit the D.A. yet, but we've got him." The captain opened the folder. "You have new evidence?" "Just confirmed the old, Cap."

Except for Berle and Billy May and his orchestra, there are no plans at present for regular performers. Does that mean numerous big name guests?

"Well," says Berle, "I think the guest bit has become a bore to the audiences. They're tired of seeing X pop up on Y's show and then Y pop up on X's. No matter what they do, they look the same. When we have guests, we hope to make them off-beat."

"There's a tremendous amount of talent that has yet to be discovered by a national audience. I want to put a new comedian on the show -- and a new singer. There must be another Judy Garland around."

Berle is putting his new show in the hands of a top-flight staff headed by Hal Kantor as producer and chief writer. So great is Berle's faith in his new staff that he's rather talk about it "the brightest, best in the country" than himself.

"There was a time I was afraid to put a show of mine in other hands. Now that's no longer so," he says.

tain, but when prissy beliefs get here and finds out what we've got against her boy friend, she'll spill her guts."

"You're referring to Mrs. Jannsen, I presume?" Morrison sat down like a man who had had a long, hard, but extremely rewarding day. "That's our girl."

The captain was nodding his understanding when there was a pounding at the door, and Alden burst in.

"The car you sent to pick up Mrs. Jannsen just radioed for help. When they got there Jannsen seemed to go off his trolley. He's locked himself in his bedroom and threatened to shoot anyone who tries to come in."

The captain jumped up and grabbed his coat.

When they skidded up in front of the Jannsen home, they could see Mrs. Jannsen sitting in the back of one of the patrol cars, and an officer standing on the parking strip. Both men jumped from the car and ran to the officer.

"What's the crazy fool doing?" asked the captain.

"Nothing now, sir," the officer answered, "he just shot himself." After the wild ride the news was like a dash of cold water.

"Dead?" "No sir. He tried for his head, but he must have aimed wrong. He has a bad wound, but I don't think he'll die."

"Where'd he get the gun?" "She said he'd had it since he was in the Army. It wasn't supposed to be loaded, but he got bullets from somewhere. He didn't make those holes in the door with a water pistol."

"He shot at you?" the captain asked in surprise.

"Yes sir. I counted four shots that came through the door. Then there was a report and everything got quiet. We waited a few minutes and broke in. He was there on the floor, bleeding like a fountain."

The captain started for the house, and Morrison went to the car where the white-faced Callie Jannsen sat.

"I suppose you know your husband shut himself?" It was a brutal statement but he could feel no sympathy for the woman.

She nodded. She was unnerved but there were no signs of grief. No tears. No pain.

"Have you any idea what made him do it?" "Of course not. How could I?" "You were married, weren't you?"

"That's a pretty good reason." She hesitated and then said: "Craig and I were not particularly close."

"Is that why you were playing footsie with Higbee?" Her face flushed with a anger.

"What a perfectly disgusting thing to say, but I suppose being a policeman you don't know any better."

He didn't approve of striking women, but she was the exception. It would have been a downright pleasure to belt her one.

"Being a policeman, I'll tell you what I do know," he snapped harshly. "Higbee was here the night Bruce Adams was killed, and you kept quiet about it. He was seen coming into this house, and you lied about that. I don't know what the two of you did, but I do know that when Higbee left, he strangled the boy, and you were willing to let him get away with it."

"He didn't," she gasped. "Mr. Higbee is not capable of killing anyone. He's a fine upstanding man. Not the sort that you'd know about."

"I know a lot of things, Higbee is a murderer. I meet them all the time and believe me, I understand them. Higbee is a man that sneaks into another man's home when he's away, and plays around with his wife. That's another kind I meet all the time."

A Few Facts About Trouble on Formosa

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an ABC on the background leading up to the present Formosa crisis, latest in a series, which might explode into war or melt away by letting the Reds grab a little real estate without a fight.

After World War II the United States pumped money into China to help its wartime ally, President Chiang Kai-shek, establish a stable government, make needed reforms and win the people's allegiance.

The reforms didn't come. The money was squandered. American attempts to get Chiang and the Chinese Communists to work together failed. The Reds grew stronger, smashed Chiang's armies. His troops deserted to the Reds in bunches.

The United States washed its hands of both sides. In the fall of 1949 the Reds drove Chiang and his coming troops off the mainland and to Formosa, 100 miles across the Formosa Strait.

But Chiang's forces grabbed and held a number of islands off the mainland. They included Quemoy, the Matsus, the Tachens and a number of tiny islets. The Reds lacked the planes and ships to pursue Chiang and finish him off.

President Truman was so disgusted with the whole situation that early in 1950 he said this country would not get mixed up in the Chinese civil war. This meant Chiang was on his own. Still, the Reds lacked the means to reach and crush him.

He remained on his own the first six months of 1950. Then the Korean War began in June. Truman sent the 7th Fleet into the Formosa Strait to "neutralize" the Red-Nationalist conflict.

The picture changed abruptly in the fall of 1950 when the Red Chinese got into the Korean War. From then till now American policy has been to defend Chiang from Red attack.

Growing stronger, the Reds began a steady peppering of the Chiang-held offshore islands. This kept up. Early in 1953 President Eisenhower decided to take a more positive position than the stated American policy up to that time.

He asked and got from Congress:

1. Approval of a resolution authorizing him to throw American forces into a fight against the Reds, if necessary, to defend Formosa, the nearby Pescadores Islands, and "related areas."

2. Approval of a mutual defense treaty with Chiang. This pledged the United States to help Chiang defend Formosa.

But Eisenhower under the resolution was free to decide what, if any, of those "related areas" he would defend or think worth defending. So what was left unanswered then, and is still unanswered, is this question:

Would Eisenhower, in case of Red attack on the offshore islands held by Chiang, use American forces to defend them and thus get the United States into a possible war with Red China? In short: Would he consider any or all of those islands necessary for the defense of Formosa?

Very quickly, early in 1955, he had to make up his mind. The Reds were banging away at the Tachien Islands, 200 miles northwest of Formosa. He decided to let the Reds have them without a fight and persuaded Chiang to agree.

Things quieted down until a few weeks ago. Again the Reds bombarded the offshore islands, particularly Quemoy, near the China mainland and directly across the strait from Formosa. The Matsus are 75 miles northwest of Formosa. But there are a number of Chiang-held islets near the mainland too.

There's only guessing now as to whether the Reds will try to take Quemoy, the Matsus or, just to win a little prestige, the tiny islets. Equally mysterious is what the Eisenhower administration will do if the Reds move at all.

So far the administration has issued what sounded like stern warnings to the Reds but in language so vague that Eisenhower is free to make up his mind at the last minute on whether he wants to get into a fight over the islands.

He'd have to fight, because of the treaty, to defend Formosa itself.

"You're the kind that can let the body of a murdered boy lie in the morgue, and lie for the man that put him there. Then you can talk yourself into saying it couldn't have been him because he's just to fine and decent."

Her pulse was beginning to crack under his tirade. He was beginning to feel as bad as Grimes, but once he started on her, it was hard to stop.

"All you can think about is sex," she accused him with some of her former confidence. "Higbee Jannsen, your sex life doesn't interest me in the least. All I want to know is, was Higbee the man who was seen entering your house or was it some other guy, and what time did whoever it was leave?"

Her lips tightened at his insult. "Of course it was Mr. Higbee. You don't think I'd have other men come here, do you?"

"I don't know. What time did he leave?"

"It was shortly before 10. He had to be home by 10:30. We had a lovely evening listening to the radio."

"That's nice," he said sarcastically. "I'll have you driven down town. We'll need your statement." To Be Continued

It takes a GIANT to keep America on the go

There are only 41,785 new car dealers in the U.S. to serve more than 49,000,000 car-craving families. Yet these comparatively few dealers perform a giant selling job in moving more than 6,000,000 new cars a year worth well over $15,000,000,000!

There are only 17,761 daily newspapers in the U.S. Yet every day they roll out more than 58,000,000 copies to do a herculean job of helping to sell America's automobiles from coast to coast.

Car dealers and daily newspapers have much in common. Both are upstanding local citizens vitally interested in local affairs. Back of almost every civic drive you'll find the local car dealer supporting it with all his weight. And right beside him, with equally ardent support, is the daily newspaper.

Car dealers, like others, have learned that the daily newspaper puts plenty of weight behind an advertiser's sales message, too. That's why newspapers, each year, carry the biggest share of automotive advertising. Use this giant to put the weight behind your advertising.

All business is local, and so are all newspapers.

Coattails of President Get Shorter

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's coattails look even shorter this year.

Three times in the past—in the elections of 1952, 1954 and 1956—Republican candidates for Congress rode his coattails as hard as they could.

All three times Eisenhower was riding a wave of personal popularity but only once was he able to help his party to victory.

This year, with Republicans desperately anxious to regain control of Congress, he figures to be of even less help than before.

For two reasons:

1. He's been coming more and more under criticism.

2. He's a lame-duck President—he's finishing out his second and last term because, by law, he can't run again.

A lame duck in any political office traditionally has an ebbing influence.

So a questionable how much help he can give the Republican congressional candidates in 1958 or how much help they want from him.

It still isn't clear how much campaigning he intends to do, if any. This might be taken as a sign of how the wind blows.

Last March 2 Chairman Andrew F. Schoepel of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee said he hoped Eisenhower would be active in the campaign but added: "I don't think any president can go out and give his blessing to any one man and have that the contributing factor. It can be helpful factor . . . but the last campaign (in 1956) in some of these instances it didn't turn out so well."

Schoepel said it would be detrimental in some states for Republicans to base their campaign on support for Eisenhower's programs.

He said some GOP candidates "simply are not going to take the same position as the President or his advisers" on some questions, like foreign aid and trade.

Republicans—including their national chairman, Meade ALCORN—have predicted they'd win control of the House but admitted the Senate fight is tough.

For ALCORN this seemed to indicate a rise in spirits since last April.

Then he was admitting he didn't think his party could win the Senate and predicted only a bare majority in the House.

In 1952—when Eisenhower was the enormously popular war hero and voters were fed up with 20 years of the Democrats—he not only won himself but swept his party along with him to control of Congress.

Not so in 1954. He wasn't running that year but he campaigned across the country for the Republican congressional candidates. It wasn't good enough. The Democrats took over Congress.

In 1956 there was reason to expect a different result. Eisenhower, still immensely popular, was running for his second term and he campaigned as hard as he could after a heart attack and a serious intestinal operation.

It didn't work. He won for himself overwhelmingly. But again the Republicans lost control of Congress to the Democrats.

This year, as a lame duck under growing criticism, there's no reason to think he'd be any more effective than in 1954 or 1956 in carrying his party to victory.

Porks Having Troubles at Tackle Posts

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Coach Frank Broyles saw his troubles at tackle grow yesterday and his University of Arkansas Razorbacks run what he termed a "poor scrimmage."

Two top tackle prospects have called it quits—LeRoy Mills of Memphis and Edgar Shanks of Blytheville. Their leaving takes away much of the meager experience at tackle.

Broyles said of their departure: "They didn't show up for practice and it is evident that they didn't want to play. If they don't want to, we are better off without them."

Co-Captain Billy Michaels is the only letterman available for the tackle spot. Other prospects are Paul Anderson of Tulsa, Jim Lineburger of Texarkana and Jim Hollinger of Harrisburg.

Broyles apparently is counting heavily on Lineburger, who is returning after spending a year at home directing his father's business. Although he missed spring practice, Lineburger is being given every chance to learn blocking assignments of the new winged T formation which Broyles is installing.

In explaining Lineburger's quick jump from the fourth to the second team, Broyles said: "The second team gets more practice and individual attention and we're giving John every chance to catch up on his learning."

Letterman Billy Gilbow of Blytheville and John Boles of Terrell, Tex., hold the edge at the guard spot, and there is a healthy competition for the No. 2 guard position. Billy Laplow of Parkin, Jerry Green of Terrell, Tex., Bob Barnett of Forest City and Dave Carder of Texarkana are vying for the post.

There appears to be adequate personnel at center. Barry Saylor of Crossett is on the first unit, backed strongly by sophomore Wayne Harris of El Dorado.

Broyles describes Harris as "the best man off the freshman team."

Broyles said the squad turned in a "poor scrimmage" yesterday, with the first and second units against reserve defenses.

He commented, "There wasn't too much hustle, the boys couldn't think. They were just too tired."

He wouldn't single out any one man as outstanding in the session, but said halfback Freddy Akers of Blytheville was "the only one who looked like he knew where he was going."

The Porks will continue 2-day workouts today. Sessions are scheduled from 8:30 a. m. to 10 a. m. and from 3:45 p. m. to 5:45 p. m.

Plans call for a defensive scrimmage this afternoon. Other Southwest Conference football coaches wasted no time finding out who came to play. In just three days they got down to rough scrimmage sessions.

The results were gratifying in most instances although Coach Darrell Royal of Texas complained that "the guards weren't guarding and the tackles weren't tackling."

But Texas did look very good on offense as did most of the squads.

Coach Jim Myers of Texas A&M held two scrimmages in three days but he said the main reason for it was "to do more polishing on the side wingback" which he is installing this year.

Coach Abe Martin of Texas Christian was pleased with his running attack. In a tough scrimmage yesterday Marvin Lasater and Marshall Harris broke through for long gains, and the Horned Frogs showed up well defensively with linebacker Sherill Headrick and end Bubba Meyer in the forefront.

Southern Methodist indicated a terrific offense centering around the running of sophomores Frank Jackson and Billy Polk and the piffy passing of Don Meredith. Meredith found some willing targets in Frosty Robinson, Terry Wilmon and Frank Smith.

Larry Duell, Rice's top quarterback, missed contact work while favoring a sore ankle, but sophomore Wade Rodgers stepped in to direct the first and third units and Coach Schnabel generated the second. Both looked good.

Baylor lost three sophomores, two of them Maury Crow, tackle from Chicago, and Luke Melville, halfback from Conway, decided to give up football in order to concentrate on their studies. Fullback David Quinn of Cleburne dropped out because an old injury wouldn't respond to treatment.

Spahn Having Trouble in 2-Game Drive

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Warren Spahn seemed to have hit a snag in pursuit of his ninth season of 20 or more victories. He had won only one of his last three decisions, and there he was, trailing 1-0 after seven innings.

So the Milwaukee Braves came up with 11 runs in the last two frames at Philadelphia Wednesday night, beating the Phillies 11-6 for Spahn's 18th victory.

It gave them a nine game lead in the National League—their largest since moving to Milwaukee in 1953.

Cincinnati knocked off the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-4 and Los Angeles kept San Francisco in a second place tie with the Braves by trimming the Giants 5-3. St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 9-7 in 12 innings.

In the American League, New York beat Boston 8-5. The Chicago White Sox defeated Detroit 1-0 with only two hits. Baltimore defeated Washington 4-3 and Kansas City rapped Cleveland 6-2.

The Braves came from behind on Joe Adcock's three-run homer, his 17th, in the eighth, chasing loser Seth Morehead 1-4. The champs made it a six-run inning against reliever Jim Hearn with the help of errors by the Phils, who counted five runs for the game, then put across five more in the ninth.

Three runs in the seventh won it for the Redlegs. George Crowe's single scored the run that broke a 4-4 tie, and Don Newcombe's two-run pinch single put it away. Don Gross (4-5) was the loser, with Willard Schmidt (3-6) the winner, both in relief.

The Dodgers made it two in a row over the Giants for the first time this season on Duke Snider's two-run homer in the ninth off losing reliever Red Worthington (11-7). The Giants managed only four hits. They got only two over the last seven innings off reliever Sandy Koufax (10-9), one solo homer by Orlando Cepeda, his 24th, in the sixth for a 3-3 tie.

Joe Cunningham's fourth hit, a two-run triple with two out in the 12th, got the job done for the Cardinals and reliever Jim Brosnan (10-8). Cunningham drove in four runs for the Cards, who scored four unearned runs in the third, then blew a 7-2 lead as Ernie Banks hit his 43rd home run, Bob Taylor his 13th and Tony Taylor his sixth for the Cubs. Bill Henry (1-4), sixth of seven Cub hurlers, lost it.

Wanda Mae a m a k e d Philadelphia 11-6 after seven scoreless innings, giving the Braves a nine-game lead and reducing their magic number to 13. Pittsburgh lost 7-4 at Cincinnati, and San Francisco, tied for second with the Pirates, lost 5-3 at Los Angeles. St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 9-7 in 12 innings.

The Yankees put it away on a three-run shot in the ninth off Leo Kiely — a lefty reliever brought in to face the left-handed hitting Berra. Berra pitched 6 2/3 innings with two perfect innings, fanning the last four men in relief of Murry Dickson. Murray Wall (7-1) was the loser.

Baltimore took it with two runs in the ninth, on a pair of walks, a tie-breaking pinch single by Bob Hale and a clutching single by Bob Boyd. Arnie Portocarrero (13-10) won his first in three weeks. Vito Valentinelli (4-3) was the loser.

Hal Smith's fifth powered a tie-breaking fourth-inning home run for the A's against loser Hal Wude. Smith (9-9) lost his 13th game in 14 with a five-out, first-inning home run off two hits (both by Minnie Miñoso) after the first inning, when Larry Doby's 11th homer counted two runs.

Wanda Mae a m a k e d Philadelphia 11-6 after seven scoreless innings, giving the Braves a nine-game lead and reducing their magic number to 13. Pittsburgh lost 7-4 at Cincinnati, and San Francisco, tied for second with the Pirates, lost 5-3 at Los Angeles. St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 9-7 in 12 innings.

The Yankees put it away on a three-run shot in the ninth off Leo Kiely — a lefty reliever brought in to face the left-handed hitting Berra. Berra pitched 6 2/3 innings with two perfect innings, fanning the last four men in relief of Murry Dickson. Murray Wall (7-1) was the loser.

Baltimore took it with two runs in the ninth, on a pair of walks, a tie-breaking pinch single by Bob Hale and a clutching single by Bob Boyd. Arnie Portocarrero (13-10) won his first in three weeks. Vito Valentinelli (4-3) was the loser.

Hal Smith's fifth powered a tie-breaking fourth-inning home run for the A's against loser Hal Wude. Smith (9-9) lost his 13th game in 14 with a five-out, first-inning home run off two hits (both by Minnie Miñoso) after the first inning, when Larry Doby's 11th homer counted two runs.

UN Will Try to Find Outer Space Plan

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States said today it will ask the U.N. Assembly to adopt a four-point plan to assure that outer space will be used solely for the peace and benefit of mankind.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge announced that the United States has asked that the proposal be put before the 14-nation Assembly scheduled to open at U.N. headquarters Sept. 16.

The four main points are:
1. Creation of a special U.N. committee to make detailed studies and recommendations of ways and means for furthering progress in outer space.

in outer space work and to assure that outer space will be used solely for man's benefit.

2. A declaration by the Assembly separating the subject of peaceful uses of outer space from the long fruitless disarmament negotiations.

3. A formal declaration giving Assembly support to the principle of the peaceful utilization of outer space.

4. An Assembly declaration endorsing in principle the establishment of appropriate international machinery to accomplish these aims.

Lodge, announced to the American Legion convention in Chicago today that the United States would seek Assembly approval of an international space program.

The Soviet Union already has asked the Assembly to set up an agency for cooperation in the field of outer space. But it wants the Assembly to take up at the same time the elimination of foreign bases on territories of other countries.

Son of Chaffee Official Killed

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Donald Wayne Metheny, 11-year-old son of the Ft. Chaffee public information officer, was killed today when his bicycle was struck by a car as he was delivering newspapers near his home here.

He was the only child of Capt. and Mrs. Arlie Metheny, formerly of Leachville.

Police identified the driver of the car as Sp. 4. c. William West, 24, also of Fort Smith and also stationed at Chaffee.

Officer Earl Withers said the Metheny boy was knocked onto the fender of the vehicle by the impact but he slid off and under the wheels as the car skidded sideways.

West, a subject the United States says should not be linked with outer space.

Preacher Is Arrested for Loitering

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., who led the Negro bus boycott in Montgomery, was arrested outside City Hall today on a charge of loitering.

He was released on $100 bond and a hearing set for Friday in City Court.

Police Chief G. J. Ruppenthal said King was in a crowd of Negroes that had gathered for a preliminary hearing for a Negro accused of attacking another Negro leader, the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy.

Ruppenthal said the Negroes had the sidewalk blocked and that when an officer told them to move

King twice refused.

The police chief said King, widely known as a leader in the fight against racial segregation, was permitted to sign his own bond.

King and the other Negroes were waiting for a hearing to start on a charge of assault with intent to murder filed against Edward Davis, a Negro accused of attacking Abernathy with a hatchet.

Davis, 27, was arrested last Friday while he was chasing Abernathy down a street near the ministers church. Abernathy also has been active in the fight against segregation and, like King, looks a leading part in the mass boycott of segregated city buses.

Abernathy told officers Davis entered the church office and accused the minister of "carrying on an affair" with Davis' wife.

New Line of Evolution Is Discovered

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—Anthropologists may be on the brink of discovering a new line of human evolution in Asia, a British scientist said today.

Tom Harrison, curator of the Sarawak Museum in Borneo, recently told the British Assn. for the Advancement of Science that a unique labyrinth of limestone caves had been excavated at Niah on the China Sea.

Elaborating on his announcement, Harrison said today in an interview that the work is still going on and may help throw new light on Asian evolution.

5,000 years old have already been unearthed, he said.

Harrison said a human skull had been found of almost the same age as Neanderthal man, yet showing very little connection with this early forerunner of modern man. To Harrison, this indicated that the prehistoric population of Southeast Asia may have evolved along different lines from the peoples of Europe.

"After all, people in Asia are Asians—with physical characteristics different from Europeans," he said. "The question is, how did they get that way?"

"We've not yet gone very deep in the diggings," Harrison said. "At the bottom were expecting to find remains 100,000 years old, and maybe much older."

He said that Bronze Age men, who lived 10,000 to 20,000 years ago, left ritual death ships and wall paintings in the caverns which show they were used as a burial ground.

Lana's Ex-Husband Protests Ruling

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Cheryl Cranes father says the Superior Court made the girl a ward of the court without giving him a chance to petition for her custody.

Restaurateur Stephen Crane, 42, Tuesday appealed the order, handed down after Lana Turner's 14-year-old daughter fatally stabbed John Stompanato in the actress' home.

Judge Allen T. Lynch ruled that Cheryl would remain a ward of the court pending a possible judicial review next June. The girl is now living with Miss Turner's mother, under court supervision.

Crane filed the appeal in the District Court of Appeals. He contended that Judge Lynch ruled without taking evidence that Cheryl's welfare could best be served in the custody of one of her parents, rather than as a ward of the court.
